Pelahatchie Shore Park Restoration Project: Turning Loss into Renewal

The Pelahatchie Shore Park Restoration Project represents a meaningful step forward following a significant loss to the landscape. In recent years, several hundred trees died due to a pine beetle infestation compounded by prolonged drought conditions. These combined stresses dramatically altered the park, leaving large areas of once-thriving forest damaged or completely lost.

While the loss was unfortunate, it created an opportunity to restore the area with a more diverse, resilient, and intentional landscape—one designed to withstand future environmental challenges while enhancing recreation and natural beauty. The restoration effort in Pelahatchie Shore Park focuses on reestablishing vegetation through a carefully planned mix of hardwood trees, ornamental species, native shrubs, and grasses.

By diversifying plant life, the project reduces reliance on any single species, helping protect the area from future pest outbreaks and climate-related stress. Hardwood trees will form the backbone of the new canopy, providing long-term stability, shade, and wildlife habitat. Ornamental trees and flowering shrubs will add seasonal color and visual interest, while native grasses will play a critical role in erosion control and soil stabilization.

This layered approach not only restores the park's beauty but also strengthens the overall ecological health of the area. Planting is in progress, and the disc golf course is open!

2026 Pelahatchie Bay Alligator Season

The Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks will organize the fourth annual Pelahatchie Bay Special Alligator Hunting Season over the first two weekends of May.

The hunts have been successful in reducing the number of nuisance alligators and breeding females. During the May 2025 season, 20 alligators were harvested, the longest female being 9 feet and 6 inches. The longest male harvested was 10 feet and 6 inches.

Because the Reservoir and the Pearl River are part of the American Alligator's natural habitat, PRWWSD and MDWFP are not intending to completely remove alligators from the area. But based on the number of active nests in the area, the special season will continue until their numbers are reduced to a more manageable level.

For more information, please visit "Alligator Program" at mdwfp.com.

Support the Barnett Reservoir Foundation with License Plates

Over 2,000 vehicles now bear the Reservoir Tag, the proceeds of which benefit the Barnett Reservoir Foundation. The Foundation serves as a non-profit support group for PRVWSD and the Reservoir community.

The Foundation funds projects and events around the Reservoir, most notably the Independence Day Celebration fireworks displays at Old Trace Park and Bobby Cleveland Park at Lakeshore.

Other events include the Sunset Concert Series, Food Truck Frenzies, crawfish boils, and others.

The license plate provides free admission to PRVWSD parks and many Foundation events.
